The leading Polish officials would prefer to purchase the equipment in a Soviet Bloc country, but the Polish technicians have a strong preference to buy the equipment in a free world country and have therefore entered in negotiations with French and German firms. The German authorities are of the opinion that the wish to purchase the equipment in western countries should be supported.

The extension of the television-network contributes not only to an improvement of living conditions of the Polish population, but contributes to a better cultural exchange with the free world.

The German authorities therefore are satisfied, that this request satisfies with the conditions of the special policy towards Poland adopted by the committee.

The German authorities have no doubt that the equipment will be used for television purposes only and will not be diverted to other telecommunication purposes. - The German authorities have received the assurances against re-export or diversion of the equipment.

Under these circumstances the German authorities would like to grant the export license and hope that no objections will be raised in the committee.
